On Wednesday evening, we enjoyed a night of celebration and arts! Lexington hosted our annual PTSA Reflections Gallery and Award Evening. Oxford and Cypress both joined our forces as well. Thank you to our Reflections Chair, Oge Ebe, and the rest of our PTSA for supporting and encouraging our students to be the best they can be through these creative processes! DANCE

DANCE

At the AUHSD Honor Theater and Dance Festival Lexington Theater and Dance students participated in workshops led by college professors and professionals (even Broadway performers!).

With workshops such as Choreography from Wicked, Make Up Design, Disney Dance Auditions, African Dance, and Improvisation, students could deeply explore technique and collaborate with the best and brightest performers from across the district.

The AUHSD Honor Dance and Theater students will gather one more time in the spring with a free public showcase performance and the Kennedy Performing Arts Center.

Make up Artist

As part of Dance's Theater Arts Unit, students learned about makeup sanitization and practiced traditional Dia de Los Muertos make up designs. A professional artist demonstrated special designs.

RED RIBBON WEEK

Red RibbonWeek

Mr. Nailon our very own math teacher was our Red Ribbon Speaker this week. All students got to hear a positive message about staying drug free and how to live a positive and successful life!

Thank you Mr. Nailon for sharing your story with our students! You are an inspiration!

We also had spirit days all week to remind us on the importance community and being productive citizens!

Thank you to Mrs. Dunham for your help on orchestrating our week's activities!!!

ENGLISH

ENGLISH

Mr. Rae's students are starting Anne Frank and learning about the Holocaust. It's a pretty intense unit; however, the students walk away, hopefully, with an understanding of what happened and how important tolerance is. Students will research a Holocaust survivor and share their experience and express what lesson can be learned from that person's life story.

PE MILE

New Technology in Physical Education!

PE teachers are piloting an awesome program called Student Lap Tracker which will allow times to be scanned into a program that teachers, students and parents will be able to access and keep track of in a personal profile. Teachers will be able to create great lists for classes including top ten boys and girls for each period with the touch of a button!!

BAND

Band is gearing up for a major performance with our feeder Cypress high School. Mr. Graves along with the director and students from CHS have been rehearsing for weeks to put on the best half time show yet!

This will occur on Friday October 26 at Handel Stadium!

COLLEGE & CAREER FAIR

COLLEGE & CAREER FAIR

This past week we had our AUHSD annual College and Career Fair at the Anaheim Convention Center. This is a great event for families to explore and get informed about all types of post-secondary institutions and opportunities. Everyone was there from Yale, to state school, to the Military and trade schools!

Ms. Giem was there at ask a counselor table with district counselors to help with admissions, transcripts, majors, locations and requirements, etc

There were performances by dance teams, choirs and dramas.

It is so awesome to see the community engagement by all our AUHSD families!
