Monday Memo

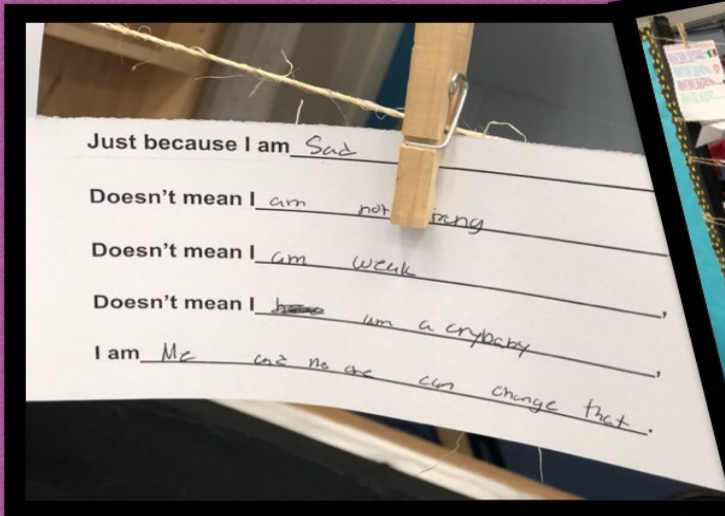

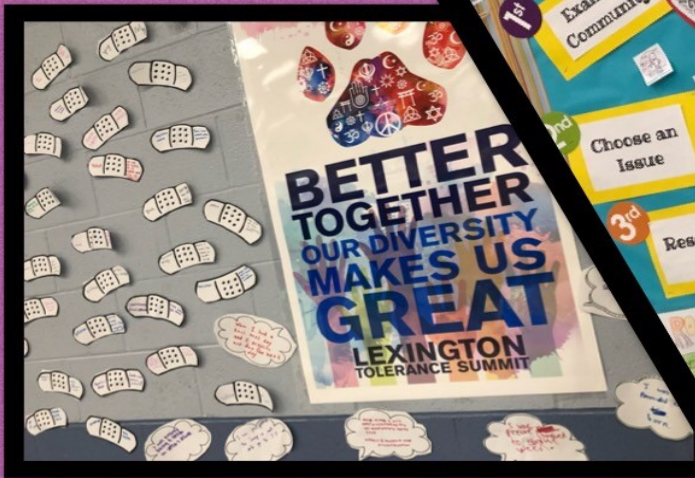

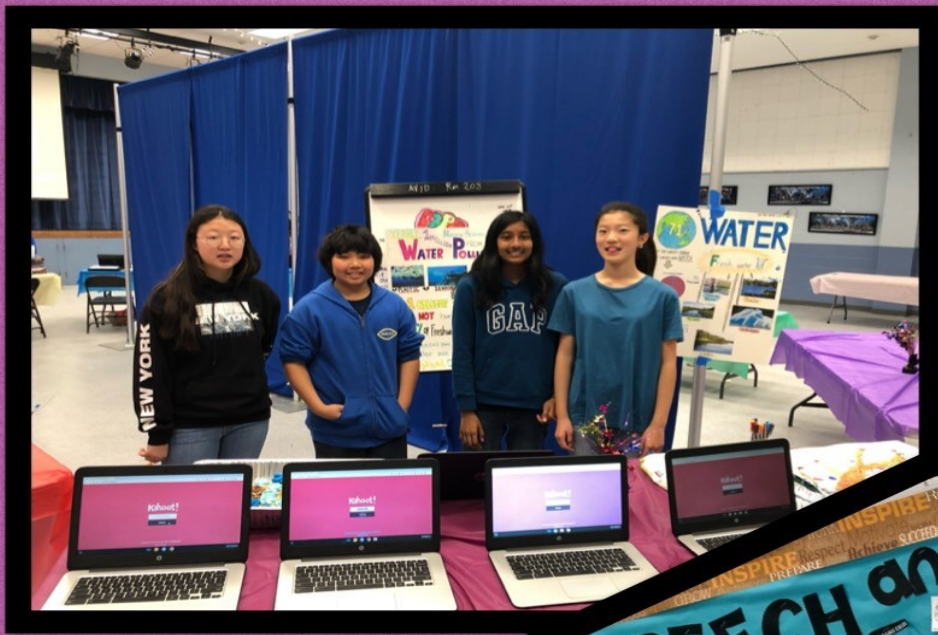

#AUHSDUNLIMITEDYOU

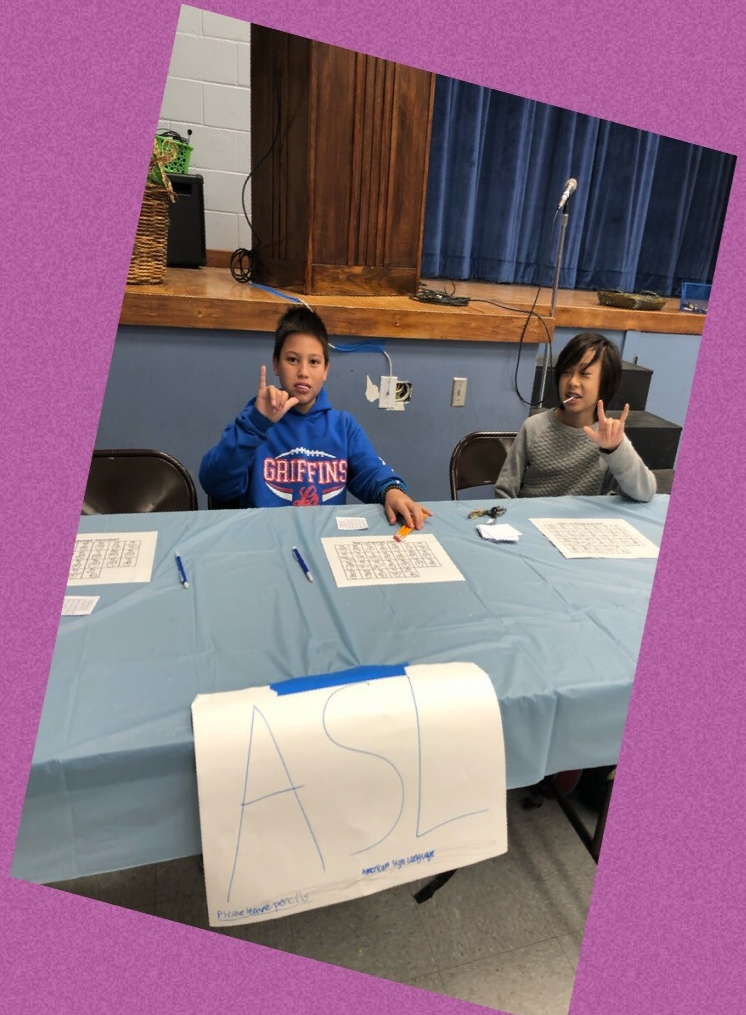

Lexington held its annual 2-day Tolerance Summit this week. Day one included student driven Soap Box style speeches talking about societal issues in our world and how to address them. All English classes were audience members during their ELA classes that day. We also had guests that we recognized as amazing people who positively impact our school and community: amongst these were Mayor Berry, Board Member Piercy, and parent Mrs. Anesi. On day two, it was a gallery walk of interactive and still exhibits and presentations with problem-solution oriented social issues. I am so proud of these students who are finding their voice and showing action to change the world for the better!

Every 7th and 8th grade student participates throughout the year in activities that develop and foster student voice that culminates in our Annual Tolerance Summit where the purpose is to create solution oriented citizens, to raise awareness about cultural identity, and to build empathy for our diverse community members. This is 100% student produced! The English, History and Speech lessons, activities and culminating Tolerance Summit is how Lexington was awarded the Civic Learning Award this year. Only one junior high school in California receives this honor. On Tuesday we will host the Chief Justice as she presents this award to our teachers and students!

SPEECH&DEBATE-CIVIC LEARNING

Our Speech classes have been busy learning not only the art of speaking, writing and presenting—but the key skills on how to research and create civic change! Here are students interviewing experts in the field of mental health, calling politicians, and creating visuals to create awareness! We were visited by Los Angeles county school districts directors to validate Lexington’s application as a Democracy School—stay tuned for our results!

REFLECTIVE LEARNING WALKS

This week we had three learning walks—our Career Technical Education (CTE) teachers walked our campus reflective on our 5 C's in the classrooms, while we also had our parents experiencing our Tolerance Summit, in addition to the Cypress Police Department. What a cool and busy day for us to stop and check out the cool stuff that happens daily in our Lexington classrooms. If you have not done a parent walk yet—contact Mr. Perales or Mr. Barba!

VOLUNTEERISM

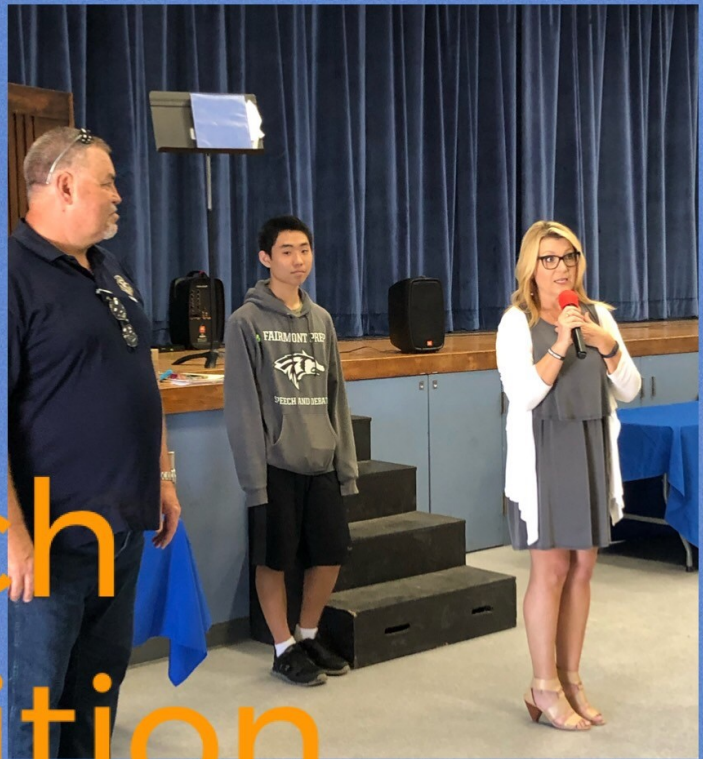

We honored Cypress HS senior, Joshua Suh, at our AUHSD Friends of Education Dinner this past week. He has given back endless hours in coaching our Speech and Debate students alongside our advisor Mrs. Heck. As a former lion, present Centurion—we cannot wait to see where his amazing journey will lead him next! Thank you Joshua!

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

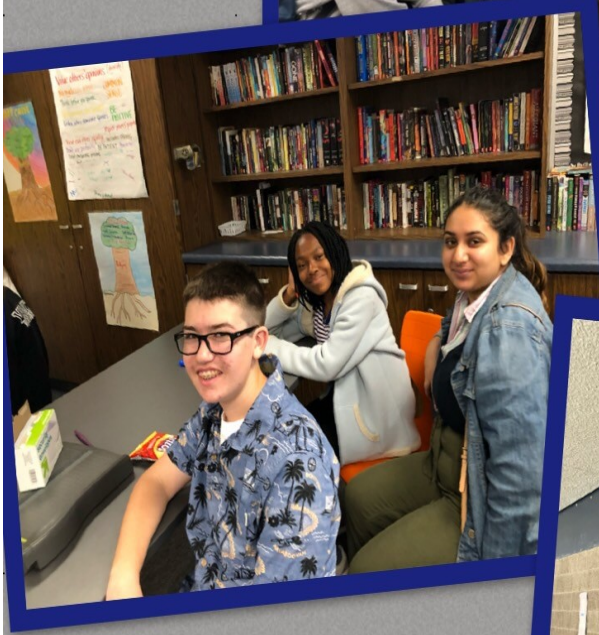

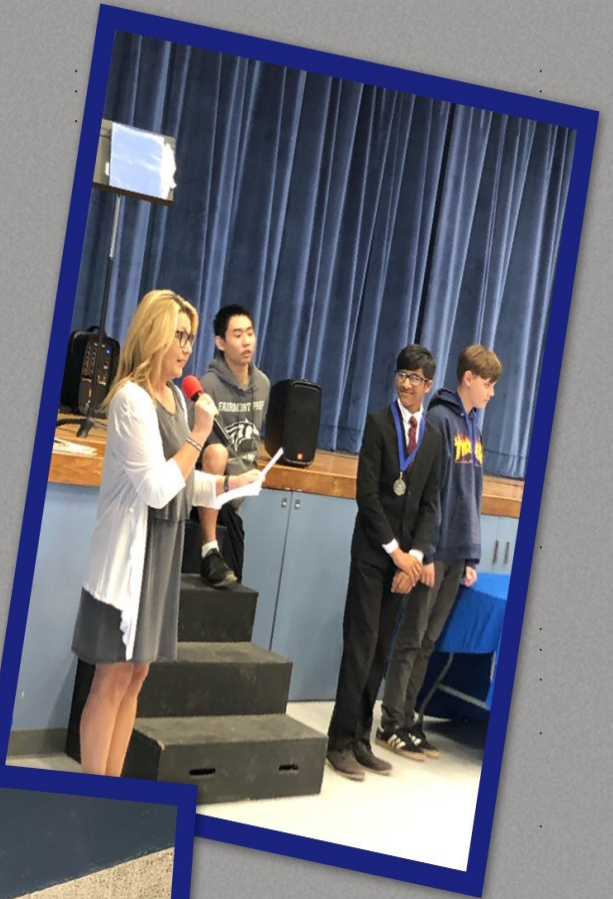

Lexington held its 4th annual speech and debate competition this weekend. We had over 75 students in attendance for this day of showing off our communication skills! Pictured below are our winners of all the different categories. Walker JHS and Oxford Academy joined us this year!

A huge thank you to Kiwanis Club of Cypress under the vision of Hank Machal, who sponsors this $1,000 event for our kids! Not only that, but Hank and his team of Kiwanis members mentor and coach our students throughout the entire year as well! We are so lucky to have this organization that loves kids! Join Kiwanis at <http://www.kiwanis30.org/cypress.htm>. If you have any questions contact Hank Machal at (714) 220-6440 Monday - Friday from 9am to 5pm. He is owner of Mach 5 Insurance as well—a long standing insurance company in Cypress!
