Lexington Families,

As Covid-19 has started to lose its sparkle, and seeped its way into becoming our “normal life”, I find myself wondering how long will this really last? All experts weigh in on this stating this is our new normal and plan on very slow “re-entry” back to openings and gatherings. If this saddens you---it saddens me too. Some of us are more impacted by the disease and its ramifications than others; whether it be physical health, financial concerns, or loneliness of staying inside.

I don't have the answer and to be quite honest with you, I feel differently about it each day, sometimes each hour of each day. I will say that practicing gratefulness has extremely brought light into my home and my mind. I have felt very lucky to be home with my children during this time---getting to know them more, being present more, getting to watch them do their own online school, having more time for family meals and walking our dogs. These are luxuries for me quite honestly and now they have become a daily gift. And, driving home today after bringing my grandpa food and helping him with his tech and cell phone(besides being 85 and deaf---poor guy), I had a beautiful view of our California green hills, blue skies and warm weather. Now don't get me wrong, there have been some days that trying to participate in google meets with full attention that I have lost my cool when my boys are scooting around my house yelling, shooting each other with nerf guns and being surrounded by their constant mess. And the parents I have had to call and speak with that gets the overwhelming howl of my bloodhound wanting my attention. I empathize for our 8th graders (my son being one), the seniors and all their families that miss the traditional milestones of life. And for these moments, and I know you can all relate---I am still grateful for my life. I am grateful for my profession and AUHSD family. I encourage you to practice gratitude with your children-kindness, it's contagious----pass it on!

Found Poems--Artifact

April 9, 2020

By Jason Lee

Do you remember what happened?

Those were the times of amazing grace when people came together with kindness and compassion to support each other.

People came together with courage and beacons of hope both near and far to respond to these traumatic times.

Together we will face this threat with love and care.

Together we are committed to helping our community in these traumatic times.

Together humanity has no barriers and love is limitless if we have the courage to embrace it.

Together we can heal this fractured world.

All things break and all things can be mended, so go

The broken world awaits in darkness, for the light that is with us will flare.

“A KEY TO HOPE” by Bhumi Chauhan

*To slow the spread of Covid-19 crisis, stay at home
Strengthen social distancing
Work together, the crisis will come to end
Welcome students back to school in 2020
Extended education through distance learning
Strength community with safety concerns
Support students to essential needs
Miss you students and educators.*

My focus is about all the positivity happening on Earth right now. People tend to only look at the bad side of the world, and never remember the good things.

It's key to put it in perspective and seek out the positive.

Below the bright filling the world, giving peace of MIND;
animals, shops, small businesses are evolving.

In times of crisis, young people are helping deliver groceries and neighbors are reaching out to those in need.

We all need time to take a breath and remember that there is still SO MUCH good happening.

HOPE by Matthew Chen

Hopefully, by the time we get to the summer
Social distancing should be maintained
We are not there yet
The US will reach its highest daily number of deaths
Yet there is hope that social distancing is working
How amazing Americans are at adapting
You want to make sure it stays that way

Music is hope

Citizens feel connected

Singing and dancing together

Lovely songs together

Something beautiful

There will be a silver lining

in dark times

to bring people together.

The resilience of the human spirit,

making music together.

Hope by Omar Sallam

COVID-19 is spreading like wildfire

And trust me these times it's not gonna get any brighter

Just look at New York City

With a total of 87028 cases and 4260 deaths

That's a lot of last breaths

If you want to save lives

Then listen and stay inside

Always keep in mind

About the one always in sight

We can get through this

Without a single bliss

But just listen and stay inside

If you want to save lives.

My School Space- Living Room by Minzy Kim

I see the sofa, sitting still, its warm brown leathery patterns reflecting from the light
I touch the plastic remote control, its rubbery buttons lighting up when I press on it
I rumble around the warm wooden table drawers, looking for my gaming controller
I see a huge painted wooden clock ticking and tocking from every passing second
I touch the bright, freshly laid books nesting on the corner of the table
I reach down to pet the soft and silky fur from my dogs, sitting calmly on their furry, unnecessarily colossal beds
I see the old family photos, its old silver borders reflecting the memories of the past
I touch the computer's dark keys while doing school work
I squeeze the puffy, bright pillows while watching a spooky horror movie.

April 7th, 2020

By Kayleen Fernandez

My living room is my new homework space. Almost everything is the color brown which isn't the best color for inspiration. During these strange times, it's now the place I do everything related to school.

I see my teal fuzzy blanket I use everyday while I do homework, and a pillow that's always drooled on by my brother at 4:00 P.M. everyday. As I do my homework on the couch, I hear the TV ahead of me, specifically the news. "15 Deaths due to Coronavirus." I touch the keys of my comforting laptop, the place where I do all my online homework, watch videos that brighten up my mood, and where I browse on Twitter sometimes. I look at my bright pink art box, where all the hidden inspiration lies. Filled with old drawings and unused art supplies, it's another comforting place. Before being in quarantine, I just thought of it as an artbox. A simple pink box filled with old art I made years ago. Now, I treasure that box. When TV gets boring and I run out of videos to watch on YouTube, I browse at my old art. It makes me truly happy. I remember the time I found art enjoyable, making drawings for my friends, joining art competitions.

Where I'm From Poems

By Hannie Lee

I am from my white desk

From chromebooks and violins

I am from practicing

I am from spring greens

I am from South Korea and Lee,

From Eun Sook and Jung Heun

And Jinnie

I am from the preparedness and practice,

From Korean nursery rhymes and Bible stories

I am from Christianity
I am from Anaheim and South Korea,
 Dongchimi (radish water kimchi) and brown rice
From the Korean parents who immigrated to America to study abroad,
 The New York and determination
I am from the pictures my mom painstakingly took to create into family albums

Covid-19

By Chloe Mina

Crashed economies, broken health-care systems and emptied public spaces.

separated people from their workplaces and their friends.

disrupted modern society

on a scale that most living people have never witnessed

The rich, strong, developed america,

the readiest of nations

That illusion has been shattered,

Like world war II, 9/11 attacks, this pandemic has already imprinted nation's psyche

It Failed

So...

“Now what?”...

“What if”...

.....

The COVID-19 situation

Is without a doubt a horrible tragedy....

fear is what most of us feel

So, now what?

Keeping positive

It Isn't simply a 'do-it-yourself' project. For many, there is a community they can turn to, whether it's family or friends, or a church community or mosque, whatever it might be, ... Leaning on those people who are about you, offers you real strength and resources for the day.

Trust information from fact-based sources

Ease your anxiety, fear...

!HANG ONTO YOUR FAITH!

!HAVE A POSITIVE OUTLOOK!

Keeping a positive mindset can go a long way in managing through the difficult time

Have an attitude that looks for the positive optimistic,

it's good

it's good for everyone's mental health

millions of people are rising to the occasion

The Netherlands will extend its lockdown for most businesses until May 20 and ban large events until September 1. Dutch Prime Minister Mark Rutte said during a news conference on Tuesday.

"As much as I understand that impatience is creeping in, we know that a rapid easing could lead to the virus immediately getting the chance to peak again," Rutte said.

The uncertainty is still "too large" for businesses that require close contact, like bars and nail salons, he said.

WEEK OF 4/20/2020 TO 4/24/2020

This week I created a google my map of 5 fun places to go after quarantine. I highly recommend all of these places. to access the map click the link, then select the pinpoints, each place should have a description and picture attached.

Disneyland is always a fun place to hang out with friends and family and have fun. although it is pretty expensive, in my opinion it is worth it.

The Feline Social Club is one of my favorite places ever. It is an amazing place where you can relax and interact with cats and kittens that need homes. they even offer yoga, movie nights, and art classes with the cats, or you can just relax and play. all of the cats are adoptable and each visit helps animals in need. I 100% recommend.

WEEK OF 4/13/2020 TO 4/17/2020

Today, Life at home is, for the most part, the same. I still go outside occasionally and still do sports. However, not being able to see friends and teachers is bumming.

When it comes to distance learning I usually follow all of the rules. After looking at the symptoms of covid

My dog's life is probably better than before. This is because my family and I are always home, which means she has company. We always play with her and make her happy

During quarantine I usually eat my regular diet. Mostly store food because restaurants are closed. I eat from meat to fish during this crisis. This Crisis won't stop me from eating candy either!

During Quarantine, I enjoy playing Tennis. Even during corona I have to practice my sport. I also enjoy playing games with my family such as Jenga.

Songs I find uplifting

This song cheers me up when I'm down, when I need to get something off my mind and even just to make me happier. This praise has a beautiful meaning that makes me realize that whatever happen everything will get better and that god is with you at all times. Throughout this pandemic, I've been listening to this song and it makes me think that things always get worse before getting better.

Math Mania!

7th grade has just finished a unit on Probability and Statistics. Below I have shared two projects (one Probability, one Statistics about virus spread) Mr. McIver's class did! Students are just starting a unit on Constructing and Measuring (Geometry).

8th grade is either finishing a unit on Pythagorean Theorem or starting the last unit on Exponents and Volume of 3D shapes. Mr. McIver's 8th grade Honors also did an extra unit on Trigonometry not in our curriculum. I have shared an example of that Clinometer project.

All teachers are using Mathia, the online learning support that goes with our book. Many teachers are also using Khan Academy as a supplement to the curriculum.

VIRUS X OUTBREAK EMERGENCY NOTIFICATION

Doctors have identified a dangerous virus that is spreading across America. They have named it Virus X. When people become infected with Virus X they come down with a variety of symptoms including coughs, fevers, and nausea. While some people infected with Virus X recover, others turn into zombies.

You are part of a medical research team that works for the Center for Disease Control (CDC.) Your team has been flown to an airport in Oregon to study a group of people with Virus X. These patients are quarantined in the airport to prevent the virus from spreading.

Analyze their information and help the CDC understand the virus. Figure out where the virus is coming from and why some people recover while others become zombies.

Research report prepared by: Niki Abdou

Compare the dot plots. What do you notice? What conclusions can you draw?
I see that out of 22 people 12 people recover 10 left more than half turn into zombies. The recovery zone is from 10-60 and the zombie zone is from 10-60 years old.

Find the mean age of people who become zombies. Show your work:
 $20 + 20 + 24 + 24 + 27 + 27 + 32 + 32 + 35 + 35 + 41 + 41 + 47 = 472$

Where is VIRUS X originating?

Region	Number of Infected People
West	9
South	11
Northeast	2
Midwest	1

What conclusions can you draw from the data? Use mathematical vocabulary.
I conclude that the south region has a concentration of cases. The west region has several cases. I believe that in the northeast and midwest regions there are very few cases.

How can doctors diagnose VIRUS X?
Determine the most common symptoms experienced by people who become zombies by creating a frequency table.

anaheimunion In recent weeks, the State of California escalated its efforts to slow the spread of COVID-19, through the executive order issued by Governor Gavin Newsom calling for California residents to stay at home, with exceptions for attending to essential needs. In addition, a Major Disaster Declaration by President Trump also acknowledged the scope of this crisis and bolstered California's emergency response efforts.

Based on these conditions, directives and preventive measures, the Anaheim Union High School District has extended the dismissal of our schools through the remainder of the 2019-2020 school year, which ends on May 21, 2020.
