

Hello Lions,

This week I'd like to highlight the 200 plus students enrolled in Kristin Harpst's classes and the Lexington Home Ec Family. This program is committed to bonding over food and the power of positive. Our Advanced Home Ec hosted our first annual "Nailed It!" challenge over the Thanksgiving Break and had such a great time seeing the festive photos shared by our contestants. Advanced students looked at every entry and chose two recipients for the Golden Chef's Hat; every entry was celebrated and kept the students connected while apart. While we are unable to cook together in person, Mrs. Harpst's priority is to engage and inspire Home Ec students to contribute to their household in additional ways during this challenging time. She says to parents, "It is my goal that your student will be more interested in getting into the kitchen with you, request to try a new recipe, be a more adventurous eater, offer to show off their table setting skills or take over laundry responsibilities in an effort to take a little something off your shoulders." Students have the opportunity to focus on a Career Pathways, Presentation & Communication Skills, Budget & Finance, Culinary Terms, and multiple Culinary Units. Our Exploring Home Ec curriculum covers a variety of topics including Lessons in Laundry, Kitchen Safety & Sanitation, Equipment / Measuring, and practice with recipes. During remote learning, Mrs. Harpst set up an Instagram page @lexlionchefs - currently 198 followers and 173 posts have been shared of pictures of student prepared foods. Engaging with the pictures are helping the Lexington family stay connected while being apart - so appreciated!

In reflecting on Martin Luther King day: even though we are unable to physically be together and we are living through challenging times, "If you can't fly then run, if you can't run then walk, if you can't walk then crawl, but whatever you do you have to keep moving forward."

Stay safe and have a great week,
Principal Daniel Klatzker
